Sir Edward Richard Henry, London's Chief Police Commissioner, Dangerously Wounded.

London, November 27 .- Sir Edward Eschard Henry, chief commissioner of the London Metropolitan Police, was shot and seriously wounded to-night by a man who had an alleged grievance against him. One bullet entered the left grein, inflicting a dangerous wound; the others missed their mark. The commis-sioner's chauffeur, who is an ex-ponce-man, grappled with the assatiant and overpowered him.

turned out that the man, whose name is Bowes, had a month ago ap-plied to Scotland Yard for a taxicab license, which was refused. Susse-quently he wrote to the commissioner

Grimes, of Frederick, Md., which was found burned almost beyond recognition in a biazing boxcar early yesterday morning by firemen, will be held at the city's expense in a local undertaking establishment. As the man gave every evidence of being a tramp, but scant hope of actually identifying the body is entertained by the police.

Grimes is based purely upon the finding in his pocketbook of a season pass to "The Great Frederick Fair, October 22-25, 1912," made out in Grimes's name. The only other recognizable objects found in the clothing were two $1 bills, a blank notebook and trading stamps of a Brooklyn department store.

FINDS WOMAN'S CLOTHES

Chesterfield Police Will Investigate Discovery of Garments in Isolated Spot.
Still another mystery has bobbed up to puzzle the Chesterfield police authorities. The latest conundrum which they will attempt to solve to-day is the ownership of a skirt and corsets which were found beneath a clump of bushes near Boshers Dam, above Bon Air. The garments are new, apparently having been worn but once or twice.

Officer George Jarrel was notified yesterday afternoon of the find, which was made by a party of hunters. He at once got into communication with Magistrate S. G. Cowan, of Bon Air, and arrangements were made to investigate the case to-day. It is known that two men were camping within a few hundred feet of the place, and it is thought that they can give some explanation, as the spot is isolated and is very seldom visited.
